NEW COUNCIL MEMBERS SEATED

Take Over Reins

A. L. PAULSEN, Richmond realtor and councilman who was named mayor of the city for the ensuing year by the city council last night.

MATTIE A. CHANDLER, retiring mayor who has held the post for the last three years. She remains as a member of the city council.

NEW LIGHT PLANS MADE

If the plans of City Engineer E. A. Hoffman are carried out, there will be 42 electroliers in the new lighting system of Twenty-third street, instead of 35 as originally proposed.

City Manager J. A. McVittie brought the matter to the attention of the council last night by stating that Hoffman had come to the conclusion that 35 electroliers would not give sufficient light along the street.

It is true that the cost would be a trifle more, but it is believed the property owners would be better satisfied with the new plan. Under the 35 electrolier plan, the cost would be $2.37 a front foot and under the 42 pole plan the estimated cost would be $2.68.

As the original signers to the petition asking for the system asked for the 35 pole plan, Councilman W. W. Scott thought that notice of the proposed plan should be sent to each one before final action on the change was taken by the council.

A motion was carried instructing City Clerk A. C. Fairis to send out a letter as suggested.

TROUBLES OF MAYOR START

Five free tickets to the Live-more rodeo to be held July 4th, were received by the city council last night and accepted.

As there are nine members of the body, the question arose how is Mayor A. L. Paulsen going to supply each one with a ticket.

In order to solve the problem, Paulsen is already asking if there is anyone who can tell "How old was Ann?"

Council Grants Pool Hall Permit

The application of Peter Bolat for a permit to sell soft drinks and conduct a pool room at 49 Washington avenue, was referred to the license committee by the city council last night.

BACK FROM OROVILLE

Mrs. John H. Roeder and daughter, Marie, of 2130 Nevins avenue, have returned after a week's visit in Oroville with Mrs. C. Johnson formerly of Richmond.

BROWNS RETURN

Mrs. Billy Brown of the West Side returned recently from Austin's on Clear Lake, where they have been enjoying a vacation.

INDUSTRY AID SEEN IN GAS RATE CUT

Plumber's Bond Of Nutter Protested

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—In a brief talk with the state railroad commission today greatly reduced rates that will bring to domestic consumers of the bay region many benefits and will provide a stimulus for industrial development were cited by the Western Natural Gas company which is seeking permission to cut a pipe line from the Ketteman Hills field to Richmond.

Many cross contentions to the application have been raised by the Pacific Gas and Electric company which is opposing the application.

The brief recites that although the Western company does not propose to extend its line into the bay region beyond Richmond, its supply will serve as a standby service in the event of a fire in the P. G. and E. line. The new company would also turn straight natural gas to consumers.

During the past month the attendance at the public bathhouse reached the total of 35,456, and the money collected during the same period totalled $9,330.76.

The speaker also said that Nutter guaranteed him that "there were no outstanding bills against his bond of W. D. Rinn and R. W. Timmons was accepted on the the council chamber when the bond of A. C. Nutter struck a still trying to get money that was due him over to Nutter owes them."

Bradbury further stated that Nutter is now back in Richmond in violation of his agreement, and is attempting to go into business again.

City Attorney T. M. Carlson told the council that bond of Nutter was in proper shape and he had learned of the matter he believed Bradbury had a good cause of action against Nutter, and was of the opinion that he could bring a suit in court and secure an injunction against him. In that case Nutter would have a bond, under which he could not operate.

Then came the motion of Fenner's.

Bradbury was present at the meeting and stated that a little over a year ago he purchased his business from Nutter, at which time he received a bill of sale which contained an agreement that Nutter would not re-enter the same kind of business in Richmond for a period of three years.

The speaker also said that Nutter's bond of $10,000 was valid for one year.

Prayer of a Woman Wary of Week-End Well-Doing

H. LORD. I love my friends—I did. I have so many of them.

But must they all descend upon me twice hot summer week-ends?

I enjoy housekeeping. I love to entertain.

But it's so hard at WAYS to be doing it in a summer bungalow.

Without a maid, or an ice cream freezer, or a vacuum cleaner, or enough dishes.

I think the automobile is a marvelous invention—

But, before it was invented, crowds of six couldn't unload themselves upon my little summer porch, with the wonderful ocean view.

At half-past twelve on the hottest Sunday in the year—

So that I simply hate to ask them all to dinner.

And spend an hour and all the emergency shelf provisions in preparing it—

(Now and the children and I had planned to dine on a tray from the hotel.)

Of course, they sometimes offer to help with the dishes—

But, Lord, you know what that means.

In a two-story bungalow, where each two persons step over each other's feet.

And besides, no guest knows where to put the dish towels, or where to put away the dishes.

And my summer kitchen gets so hot after an hour's cooking.

That I can't bear to ask anybody else to work in it.

Having a little place at the beach means for me just what it means to you.

The "little place" may be in the country, but the same thing happens to them—

I'm a roadhouse, a resthouse, a day nursery, a parking place.

For all the persons who "never go away in the summer" it's, too much bother.

They know that they never go away to a home of their own.

But only to the homes of their friends—

The "other" is all theirs!

Now, don't put yourself to a bit of trouble—

So these self-invited guests implore me—

We should have let you know we were coming.

But it was such a beautiful day.

And I knew how lovely your place would look.

So we just thought we'd drop in—you didn't "make company" of us at all!

My impromptu guests know, much better than I, how lovely my place looks—

They have so much more time than I to look at it—

I'm just clearing their dinner—

And clearing up after them!

I just wonder how they'd feel, if I didn't "make company" of them.

But, Lord, there probably isn't any use in asking you to save me from my involuntary hospitality—

The clothes are past, and it

To convince the jocial motorists who weekly inundate small servantless homes outside the city.

That their room is so much MUCH better than their company!

To perform the vain thing,

I ask only small favors.

Please don't let more than ONE hungry crowd descend on me for any one Sunday—

There simply are not enough chairs, to say nothing of vitamins.

Please let them get started home before the thunder should come—

Because then I won't have to improvise supper out of the next-to-nothing left from dinner:

Please keep anything from going wrong with their car!

Until we get so far away that they can't come back to spend the night—

That means that the children have to sleep on a mattress on the floor—

While Ned goes on the piazza, in the hammock that is too short for him.

Please send me week-end guests with no children.

So that the quarreling with my children may be reduced to a minimum.

And please don't let the child be a baby—

I never have enough milk or ice or something—

Please keep the bridge funds away—

I'm always too tired, getting enough to eat for the crowd, to play a decent game.

Place the napkin on your lap—never tuck it under the chin or in the vest top.

IT WAS hot last week, Mr. Phillips, but even a殖民ist who went to Yale should know his Lowell!

When at Table

Take time to properly masticate your food—fast eating is not only unhealthy but gives an unpleasant appearance of greed.

MODERNISTIC

An easy-to-get meal, attractively arranged and bedecked to catch the eye, often wins louder applause than a week of honest-to-goodness cooking.

Appearances counting for so much in the dietary, the menu-maker plans for the eye as well as the stomach and pleases her family. At the same time she simplifies her own work.

A la king and creamed dishes served in crisp crostades may not merit the praise they receive. In fact, if the happy family knew we merely filled the toasted bread box.

Fried crostades from the A-B-C affair.

Of course, crostades may be made from fresh bread, but since more ancient bread cuts better and browns more temptingly, the accumulation in the bread box is well utilized.

For luncheon, any a la king or creamed mixture may be served in crostades. Especially nice are

Insurgents in Senate Plan to Run Rings Around Smoot When New Tariff Measure Is Finally Taken Up

WASHINGTON, D. C.

It is just twenty years since Western Republicans broke with the Easterners and laid the groundwork for the smash of the Old Guard in 1912. In the Payne-Aldrich Tariff fight, effectiveness was given to the Democratic-Insurgent Republican coalition because there was organization and method in the warfare on that legislation.

It is true that the Old Guard learns nothing they should have that other quality of the Bourbons and for-surely that religious feeling is not being fostered as actively as though former Gov. Smith still was an issue.

Gov. Harry Byrd is said to be the object of the more venomous attacks, although Senator George Norris probably has his share before emerging from his campaign next year.

It is stated that there are hundreds of persons within a hundred miles of the national capital who have accepted as gospel the statement that the Washington radio tower of the naval air station has been maintained by Gov. Byrd and that he maintains constant communication with the Vatican by means of them.

RANK QUESTION UP AGAIN

The question of rank has dropped up again. This time it is in the Post Office Department. The issue of precedence has developed there pretty much as it did some years ago in the State and Treasury Departments.

In the Post Office Department, under existing law, there is a Postmaster General and Fourth Assistant Postmaster General.

Under the skillful leadership of Senator Robinson of Arkansas the Democrats are doing the same thing. Senator Reed of Rhode Island and Smoot is no better qualified to stand up and take a hammering day in and day out for four or five months.

WALSH HAS DOUBTS

There is a tendency toward pessimism among some of the Democrats as to the outcome of the post office legislation. Progressives of the type of Walsh of Massachusetts believe that as many as ten Democratic votes may be picked off by the Administration forces through special rates put into the bill for the benefit of the Smoot-Straus.

Under the Postmaster General's proposal, all four would be designated merely as assistant.

There was a like discussion in the Treasury Department when Ogden Mills desired to rank above the other Assistant Secretaries. Congress changed the law so as to give him the title of Under Secretary of the Treasury.

Hot Weather and Charm

LITTLE sermon dedicated to the people whose "loving disposition" forsakes them in the summer-time, and to the heat-harassed souls who spend themselves in bitter and smiling folk.

Once on time we knew a little person who, all forgetful of her health and happiness, threw herself into a difficult job in mid-July and stuck it until mid-September. She came down with a fine case of prostration.

But she learned her lesson well. When the next summer rolled round the little person swore unto herself a oath, which, in effect, was this: "No worries about anything until next winter."

Summer is not the time to choose either strenuous work or worries. The strenuous work may, of course, be thrust upon us, but the worries nobody except ourselves can impose on us.

And there you have Rule 1 for keeping cool and charming no matter how the thermometer acts.

Rule 2 has to do with the sort of clothes you should wear in summer, and Rule 3 with the sort and the quantity of food you give a digestive tract which is sensitive to the weather.

Long sleeves are silly—regardless of what the mode has to say. Fancy hats are pretty nearly as silly. Fancy the East Indians in felt! Straw hats are proper stuff for someone to wear if you're thinking primarily of comfort. Because it's light and it's porous.

You will find, too, that straw and certain of the fabric shoes are infinitely more comfortable than leather ones for warm weather. As to colors, white is the coolest one, and whenever and wherever feasible it should be given the preference during the torrid months.

Also, the cottons, linens and cotton mixtures are much desirable than the silk from a viewpoint of comfort. This is a scientifically proven fact, you know. Switch to cotton undies at least, and cotton frocks for work and sports.

Now as to foods. The daily menu should include a little meat as you can manage to live with. Instead, drink milk, eat nourishing salads and all the fresh fruits you can pacify for.

When you yearn for cooling draughts don't deceive your tummy with chilled chocolate and coffee—these are essentially heating drinks. Fruit drinks are more genuinely cooling by far.

IDL OF FRANCE
'GOES OVER'
IN N. Y.

You've got to be good to click in New York.

That is what any body who knows him "Main Stem" will tell you.

By the same token the same person will tell you that Maurice Chevalier, idol of the French and British stage, "clicked" in New York recently when he appeared at his first personal performance in the United States at the Ziegfeld Folies.

Your Broadwayites very likely will go on further and say, "They had not only clicked, he whirled and hummed!"

What it takes to bring a blase
New York audience to its feet yelling and cheering, Chevalier has got. He is a genius, a marvel in the art of entertaining.

Here is what the Evening Graphic said the day after his appearance at the Ziegfeld Folies:

"Every number was received with hand clapping and some of the spectators toro, that they were in starched shirts and placed their fingers in their mouths to whistle in the good old fashion manner."

Commenting on his genius and fun making magic, the New York Telegram said:

"Small wonder that, at the watching hour of one, New York gives him a nice big hand. Small wonder the patrons of Mr. Ziegfeld's skyry cabaret patrons tick-up a collective 'Olive, Twit, Goobeg' for more and more."

Small wonder that every park in the metropolis gave Chevalier the most cordial greeting ever extended to any visiting player, small wonder, for "the boy's got me startin' that click."

The audience at the Fox-California will see and hear Maurice Chevalier in "Innocents of Paris," today when the Paramount all talking and singing picture opens there for three days, beginning Saturday.

RECORD Fliers BEAT FOG IN SOUTH

LOS ANGELES, July 1—(UPI)— Victors in a thrilling tilt with one of the most feared enemies of airmen—low hanging fog—Leo Nomis and Maurice Morrison drove their Cessna monoplane through the mist laden southern California skies tonight confidant they can better the 172½ hour endurance record.

At 7:30 p. m. tonight the two pilots passed their 36th hour in the air.

The monoplane was successfully refueled twice today but on the first attempt early in the morning fog almost ended the flight when the contact plane was unable to locate the Cessna.

Earl Gordon and William Randall, returning pilots returned to Metropolitan airport after searching unsuccessfully for Nomis and Morrison and were in conference with the airport officials when a message was relayed to the port from Girard, a Los Angeles suburb.

Nomis and Morrison had dropped a note saying their gasoline supply was low and that their maneuvers were handicapped by the heavy banks of fog.

The two contact pilots hurried aboard again and succeeded in locating the Cessna. Enough gasoline, oil and food were relayed to enable Nomis and Morrison to hold out until the weather cleared and a better contact was possible.

10 Day Attempt

According to Randall, an expert mechanic, the two airmen should make good their vow to stay in the air for 10 days.

Randall pointed out that the plane's motor was fitted with an oiling and greasing device which eliminated many difficulties met by other endurance fliers.

"I am sure of the human factor in this attempt," said Randall,
"and I know of nothing but a major break in the motor which could force the Cessna to land."

Fliers Optimistic

Other aviators at the field were optimistic—many of them pointing out that the "old rabbit's foot can go wrong."

The luck piece referred to is the same carried by the first endurance champion, the Question Mark, by Lieut. Herbert Faby when he made his solo endurance mark, and by Capt. Frank Hawks in his record-breaking round-trip flight from east to west.

PROHI LEADER DENIES PLAN TO RESIGN

WASHINGTON, July 1.—(UPI)—Assistant Secretary of Treasury Seymour Lowman, in charge of prohibition enforcement, met inquiries today about President Hoover's request for his resignation by handing out a typewritten slip bearing a quotation of political disillusionment credited to Henry Clay.

The quotation reads:

"I know that politics inevitably ends sooner or later in the tragedy of defeat. Sporadic fame or national prominence is, after all, ashes in a man's mouth.

Causes Confusion

Lowman's secretary handed the typewritten slips to newspapermen gathered in the outer office.

The slip recalled that used by former President Coolidge in making his famous "I do not choose to run" announcement.

It caused almost as much bewilderment.

It was hinted that Lowman meant the quotation for a joke upon newspaper correspondents, and he tried to convey the impression later.

After handing out the quotation

Lowman proceeded to deny again that he had been asked to resign or intended to resign when pressed by newspapermen for an interpretation of it.

Secretary of Treasury Mellon and Undersecretary Ogden L. Mills, who was influential in securing Lowman's appointment, supported him with their denials.

Many Denials

The profusion of denials was regarded either as an attempt of the treasury department to influence President Hoover to keep Lowman in office, at least temporarily, or as indicating an administration agreement to retain the prohibition chieftain until the present future blows over.

Not until today had anything been said about the prohibition official in the west. Both Mellon and Mills declined to reveal his identity.

Neither Lowman nor Prohibition Commissioner Doran were at home to newspapermen over the week-end. Repeated calls to Low-man's apartment brought only the response that he was not in.

Resignation Asked

The report that Lowman's resignation had been requested was obtained by the United Press in official circles in circumstances which left no doubt of its authenticity, and not by any unauthoritized perusal of documents bearing on the case.

There was a succession of interesting and significant developments today. After issuing the Clay quotation, Lowman said:

"I will repeat that I have not been asked to resign, and that I am not resigning."

COAST LEAGUE VOTES SPLIT SEASON

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1—UP—The Pacific Coast League's season was ordered split today by unanimous vote of directors attending a meeting here and the San Francisco Missions were declared winners of the first half, which ended Sunday.

Consequently all teams of the circuit will start even when the second half of the season opens Tuesday and from now until Oct. 6 will battle for a special $10,000 bonus to be divided between players of the first five teams.

An intricate system for determining final standing of the clubs was agreed upon.

Games that have been decided in the first half of the season will be played off later and will be used in revising the position of all teams for the first half, except the Missions.

Average Taken. Then to determine the third, fourth and fifth place teams at the end of the season, percentages of the first and second halves will be totaled and an average taken.

If the Missions win the second half they will automatically take the pennant. However, in case another team finishes ahead of the Missions a play-off series of one week will be required, the contending players to receive a week's pay, the winners to get $300 of the bonus and the second place players to get $2400. Then $2000 would go to third place, $1200 to fourth place and $800 to fifth.

The Missions will receive $5,000 if they win the second half and other prizes would be $2,000, $1,500, $900 and $500 respectively.

Attracts Attention. Dividing the season is expected to attract additional interest, particularly for boosters of the San Francisco Seals, Oakland and Rowles pumped Friedland full of improved in recent weeks and are conceded a good chance to participate in a play-off.

Of primary interest in the opening series of the new race will be the contests between the Missions and Oakland in the East Bay city.

Hollywood and the San Francisco Seals are expected to win a majority of their games this week, the Sheiks meeting the Senators at Sacramento and Seattle opposing the Seals here. In the other series Portland will clash with Los Angeles in the southern city.

Marines Beat Elk Ball Team.

The Richmond Elks nine lost a contest to the strong Marines at the Mare Island Navy yard Sunday by a score of five to three.

Dutch Kogler pitched for the team and Jensen received his offerings. Senter pitched for the Leathernecks.

Line score:

R. E. Elks ..... 3 7 6

HORNERS RETURN.

STULTZ KILLED WHEN PLANE CRASHES

NEW YORK, June 1—(UPI)—The hair's breadth by which he had floated late so many times failed Wilmer Stultz today, and the famous aviator, who piloted Miss Amelia Earhart across the Atlantic a year ago, was killed when his speeding biplane crashed from 300 feet up at Roosevelt field.

Stultz's two companions on the flight died instantly. They were Edward Harwood and Pat Cas-teluccio, of Roslyn, L. I. Stultz lived for a few minutes.

The cause of the crash has not been determined, but it is known that Stultz, a happy-go-lucky daredevil, had been stunting a minute before two workmen, eating their lunches in the front seat of a motor truck, saw his plane dive towards them and nose into the earth 20 feet away.

Two Theories. There are several theories. One is that the two passengers, bracing themselves for a stunt maneuver, jammed their feet accidentally against the dual control in the cockpit. The other, though less likely, is that Stultz himself lost control while trying a "falling leaf" spin too near the ground.

Basis for the first supposition was found by pilots at the field in the fact that the plane's throttle and ignition switch were open, which indicated that Stultz was taken by surprise when the plane dived.

The cockpit controls should not, under air rules, have been connected with those at the pilot's seat.

Trans-Ocean Flight. Stultz was only 29, though he had been flying for 12 years. He was made famous by his trans-Atlantic flight—the only successful one in which a woman has been included.

Among the many narrow escapes he had from death was one, before the Earhart flight—when Stultz was pilot of Mrs. Frances Grayson's trans-Atlantic plane, the Dawn. There was an argument regarding the flight, and Stultz withdrew after having made one false start on which he flew 500 miles out to sea before engine trouble developed.

Mrs. Grayson started with another pilot, and never was heard from again.

Stultz had another escape, his last, ten days ago, when returning from the Harvard-Yale boat race in a plane, alone. Emerging from a dense fog bank while trying to make an emergency landing in Connecticut, Stultz found himself facing a cliff-like stretch along the seashore. By a sharp bank, he managed to avoid disaster, though his plane was damaged.

Wins Stunt Award.

Only yesterday, Stultz won the stunting prize at an American Legion flying demonstration in Long Island.

Stultz's wife was at the field soon after he crashed. There was widespread sorrow among the pilots and mechanics, with all of whom the young flier was tremendously popular.

Stultz was born at Williamsburg, Pa. During the war he was an army aviator. Afterwards he flew in the navy for three years.

Two days ago he was an honorary pallbearer at the funeral of his former flying circus companion Jack Aschraft, killed in Long Island when he crashed while making an endurance flight with Miss Viola Gentry.

The cause of the crash has not been determined, but it is known that Stultz, a happy-go-lucky daredevil, had been stunting a minute before two workmen, eating their lunches in the front seat of a motor truck, saw his plane dive towards them and nose into the earth 20 feet away.

Two Theories. There are several theories. One is that the two passengers, bracing themselves for a stunt maneuver, jammed their feet accidentally against the dual control in the cockpit. The other, though less likely, is that Stultz himself lost control while trying a "falling leaf" spin too near the ground.

Basis for the first supposition was found by pilots at the field in the fact that the plane's throttle and ignition switch were open, which indicated that Stultz was taken by surprise when the plane dived.

The cockpit controls should not, under air rules, have been connected with those at the pilot's seat.

Trans-Ocean Flight. Stultz was only 29, though he had been flying for 12 years. He was made famous by his trans-Atlantic flight—the only successful one in which a woman has been included.

Among the many narrow escapes he had from death was one, before the Earhart flight—when Stultz was pilot of Mrs. Frances Grayson's trans-Atlantic plane, the Dawn. There was an argument regarding the flight, and Stultz withdrew after having made one false start on which he flew 500 miles out to sea before engine trouble developed.

AUSTRO GROUP ENJOYS PICNIC

With more than 4500 persons in attendance, the annual picnic of the Austro-American society was held at East Shore park Sunday. Oakland, San Francisco, San Jose, Watsonville and Richmond were represented at the event which was featured by dancing, games and other sports.

More than 4500 pounds of barbecue lamb, 27 baked hams, 300 pounds of rice prepared Spanish style, and 25 gallons of ice cream were consumed by the crowd.

John Sindrich, of Richmond, was general chairman of the committee in charge of the event.

Slayer Loses In Gun Play With Sheriff

SPOKANE, Wash., July 1.—UP—A sheriff who was quick on the draw today evened the score with "Blackjack" McDonald Rowden, killer of Harry Friedlund, an enemy of many years.

Sheriff Floyd Brower of Spokane dropped Rowden with a rifle shot after deputies had broken down the door of a shack where the slayer held forth in the face of determined efforts to dislodge him with tear and machine guns.

Rowden pumped Friedlund full of lead as he rode in an automobile with a friend Sunday night near Old Metalline, picturesque mining town. The town has been a haven of hard-fighting, hard-drinking men since the days when it was the last stopping place of the old steamboat line on the Pen Oreille river.

EL CERRITO TO A. L. PAULSEN SPEED UP TRAFFIC NAMED MAYOR OF CITY

In order to speed up traffic along San Pablo avenue the council of El Cerrito at its meeting Monday instructed Chief of Police R. R. Cheek to get estimates on painting white lines on the street to make two lines of traffic.

Councilman Charles Zimmerman stated that with a slow traffic lane near the curb, machines should be able to pass without going out into the street car tracks, and the plan would speed traffic through the city.

Chief Cheek will submit the estimates next Monday night.

Assessment diagrams submitted by City Engineer Ross L. Calfee for the improvement of Claytree and Albermarle streets were approved by the council.

On the recommendation of light commissioner Peter Larsen the council ordered a street light installed at Cypress avenue and Thirty-fifth street.

Three silver stars were ordered purchased for the police department on the recommendation of Councilman J. R. Beck.

No action was taken by the council on an offer to enter a float in the Fourth of July parade at a cost of $75.00.

Women Aid In Saving Tons Of Explosives

Volunteer fire fighters, aided by their wives, saved the Hercules powder plant near here Sunday from a grass fire that raged through the hills. Tons of high explosives stored at the plant were threatened by the flames.

While their husbands battled the blaze with wet sacks, the wives formed a bucket brigade and brought water to dampen the sacks.

More than 200 men, led by Fire Chief Harry Williams of Pinole and Carl Bierbaum, superintendent of the plant, aided by every piece of fire apparatus at the plant and from Pinole, battled the blaze.

Four hundred head of cattle grazing in the Briones valley were driven to safety as the flames suddenly veered in the afternoon to burn several hundred acres of grass on the east side of the highway.

The blaze started in northeast Pinole, burning strongly over the hills toward the powder company's magazine and veering with the wind into Briones valley.

BUS COMPANY NAMED TO CARRY WORKERS

Contract for the transportation of workers to and from the Standard Sanitary manufacturing plant has been let to the Richmond Transit company, owned and operated by Edward Lucas.

It is likely that taxes will be burdensome the coming year as we have lost a half million of assessable property through the utility district property being taken off of the assessment roll. In addition there have been reductions in the assessments of property on the west side and the lower end of Macdonald Avenue. Soldiers' exemptions also help to reduce the assessment roll. Alameda county lost four million in assessable property, which is much more than we have. I believe that these are the things the general public should be told about.

There has been a great deal of talk about the proposed factory of the Ford Motor company. I want to tell you the city of Richmond has spent thousands of dollars in preparing for this new industry, and there is not a question of the city made fine sections.

When Russell Meyer was introduced he stated that he did not see why it was necessary to make a speech on an occasion of a person taking his seat as a member of the council, as he was not speech maker.

"I think the council should be considered as a board of directors of the city," said Meyer. "That is really what we are. It should be our main effort to conduct the business of Richmond in the best manner possible, and that is the way I feel about my new work. I am proud to be here, to have the privilege of taking a seat as a member of the governing body. It is quite an honor, the people of the city expressed their confidence in me through their votes, and I intend to put forth my best efforts to merit that confidence."

"Believes In City

I believe in the city and its future, and while times are quiet at present it is my opinion that we are on the threshold of a more prosperous period. It is my belief that the members here will function together, and that we should do whatever is possible to hold down the tax rate."

Walter J. Johnson, another new councilman was the next speaker. "I wish to thank my friends for the votes that placed me here as a member of the council. My interests are the interests of the people of the city of Richmond, and I will endeavor to serve the taxpayers to the best of my ability. It is an honor to be here tonight, and it will be my aim to co-operate with the other members in every way possible."

"Industry Need"

George F. Imbach, another new member, then took the floor, and stated that he was very grateful to the people of the city who had made it possible for him to be a member of the council.

"To serve in this capacity I wish to serve in this capacity. I wish to co-operate with the other members, and willingly work with them in every way for the advancement of the interests of the people of the city. I have been a resident of Richmond for the past 23 years, and I realize the great need of the city is more industries. Most of my efforts will be devoted along this line."

"I believe in a reduction of taxes, to such an extent, that it will not hamper the efficiency of our city government."

Hinkley Speaks

Councilman A. B. Hinkley, although he has served for the past 18 months by appointment, took occasion to thank the people of the city for the flattering vote they gave him at the recent election whereby he was returned as a member of the council for the six year term.

"It has been a pleasure for me to serve on this body," said Hinkley "and in the future I will do my best to serve the people of the city. I am only human, and I want to say that I am proud of the vote I received at the recent election. I know it is a relief for Mayor Chandler to retire after serving for the past three years as presiding officer. It has been a pleasure to me to serve under her, and I promise my support and co-operation to the new mayor."

This ended the introduction period and the council immediately got down to the business of the evening.

Capone Loses Second Round Of Jail Fight

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—(UPI)—"Scarface Al" Capone, Chicago gang leader, lost round two of his fight with authorities today when the superior court denied his attorney a writ of supersedeas, designed to effect Capone's release from a one-year term he is serving for carrying concealed weapons.

A writ of error was denied last week. Today's writ would have released Capone pending hearing of his appeal for a new trial which will be heard three.

Capone and his bodyguard were arrested at a movie theater here while waiting for a train to Chicago, their motor car having broken down on the way from Atlantic City, where Capone attended a gang meeting designed to end the gang feud war in Chicago.

This will mean a slight change in the bus service between Tenth street and east Richmond, but will in no manner minimize the existing service, Lucas stated.

Where Rail, Water, Air And Highways Meet!

Richmond is the cross roads—where rail, water, highways and the airways meet, or will meet in the immediate future.

We have long had the rails and highways. Now we are perfecting our shipping facilities, which will link us by water to the ports of all the world. Soon must come modern airport facilities, the last touch required to put Richmod in the forefront as regards transportation that meets the need of these exacting times.

Back of all this transportation is a city to be served and a back country to be invited in to use our facilities.

Richmond, standing at the confluence of two great rivers, directly across from the Golden Gate, having long stretches of deep water and unlimited areas for factory sites, moves rapidly forward to its destiny—a young Colossus among cities. Less than 25 years old, it boasts a population of more than 30,000 and is the youngest American city of its size.

And this is but the beginning. New capital will be attracted, new industries established here, new population will come. Plans to bring these things about are maturing through united community effort finding expression through the Richmond Chamber of Commerce.
